Master Italy s.r.l.

Since 1986, Masteritaly, an Italian company, has been designing and manufacturing window and door hardware. We design and produce accessories for windows and doors that meet all international requirements for energy saving, sustainability and durability. The sense of belonging, passion and teamwork inspire our culture and identify the people with whom we work..

Design and quality made in Italy for windows accessories designed by Master Italy at the AIA Conference on Architecture, New York, June 21-23, 2018.

The AIA Conference on Architecture is the most important event dedicated to the world of architecture and construction in the USA, held in New York, this year in June 21-23.

PRESS RELEASE

Conversano, June 12 2018

Inside it, at level 3 of Jacob k. Javits Convention Center, the almost 200 thousand architects, designers and professionals of the construction industry that will take part to the event, will find the Architecture Expo, with more than 200,000 square meters dedicated to the stands of 500 companies from all over the world, selected for their ability to innovate in the construction world.

Among these Master Italy, the Italian leader in the design and production of accessories and solutions for aluminum doors and windows, which will attend in New York with its commercial partner American Douglas Metals to present interesting products as an absolute preview for the US market, such as:

- WEEN program, the simple, modular and green solution for Tilt&Turn systems, with WEEN HIDE 110 and WEEN HIDE 180 versions, characterized by concealed hinges and opening respectively up to 110° and 180°. These solutions add value on quality architectural projects, as all operating elements of doors and windows remain hidden;
